- Any relationship with a third party

That might, in rendering a financial service to a client:

1. Influence the objective performance of our obligation to our client; or
2. Prevent us from providing an unbiased and fair financial service in the interest of our clients

As an Insurance Broker we have no financial interest, ownership interest or relationship with a third party, that constitutes a conflict of interest, as defined in Board Notice No. 58 of 2010, in providing a distribution channel for financial services.

LSG Insurance Services has put in place processes, procedures and internal controls to prevent any “immaterial financial interest”.
